～ Sendaigi Kindergarten in Summer ～

Director Tahira Naoe

This year, it's the "Boiling Summer" (according to the Tokyo Metropolitan Government's public relations). At the kindergarten, we are offering open pool sessions, extended daycare, and open playground times.

During the summer, the teaching staff is engaged in various training programs to improve their instructional skills and expertise.

[Block7 training for preschool, elementary, and middle school educators, anger management training, special needs education training, public kindergarten training in Hokkaido, National Early Childhood Education Research Association conference in Aichi, allergy training, summer training by the Tokyo Association of Public Kindergartens, training for young and mid-career teachers, training for head teachers, deputy principals, and principals...]

We will continue to leverage the results of these training programs as we work together in the second semester to further enhance our educational activities. Thank you for your continued support.
